

Financial Wisdom in Life

Course Code: ASKFWL

Course synopsis: In our basic education we were taught languages, science, mathematics, geography and biology. In tertiary education we may come across accounting and management these are for working in companies but we have not been formally educated in personal finance. Besides IQ, EQ we still need FQ (Financial Quotient) to be successful in life.

Wisdom is about making good judgment with the support of knowledge and experience. We could enhance our wisdom by learning from others. There is much traditional wisdom we may have missed out over the time. There are wisdoms from different cultures that are good for us. This course consolidates all these and presents them in a logical and comprehensive way. This course not only could benefit yourself and also your children, your family and your circle of influence.
