

Three Kingdoms' Leaders & Leadership (Sun Quan Chapter)

三国（孙权篇）

Course Synopsis

The Three Kingdoms period (220-280 AD) was one of the bloodiest chapters in Chinese history, characterized by chaotic infighting between warlords who took great pains to outwit each other for land and sovereignty of China.

The Three Kingdoms (曹魏 Wei, 蜀汉 Shu and 东吴 Wu) era was ultimately an epic battle of wits and supreme leadership skills.

This seminar series approaches the concept of leadership from valuable insights gained from Sun Quan's (孙权) leadership style. As a young but wise leader, the management skills he employed during his reign showed maturity beyond his years and are still relevant in today's context.

Learning Outcomes

- ❖ Identify the leadership style of Sun Quan
- ❖ Compare and contrast Sun Quan's leadership vs modern leadership styles
- ❖ Recognize the difference between the Romance of the Three Kingdoms (三国演义) vs Records of the Three Kingdoms (三国志)
- ❖ Recount key moments in history pertaining to the brilliance of Sun Quan
 - The Battle of Yiling/Xiaoting (夷陵之战，又称猇亭之战)
 - Sun Quan 孙权 vs Sun Ce 孙策
