Course Synopsis

The Three Kingdoms (三国) period was the one of the worst periods of China's history due to the turmoil of war and bloodshed.

However, it was also regarded as the time when great leaders emerged. The tripartite (三分为: 曹魏, 东吴, 蜀汉) struggle for hegemony over ancient China ultimately showcased a keenly contested battle of wits, wills and supreme leadership skills.

This workshop approaches the concept of leadership from the prominent leaders of the Three Kingdoms Era such as Cao Cao (曹操), Sun Quan (孙权), Liu Bei (刘备) and Zhuge Liang (诸葛亮) and analyse their leadership styles and value systems which can be applied to daily life today.
